

NEWSLETTER

DECEMBER 2023

Advocating

This month, we were invited to This Morning at ITV. This was also the day that the LoveSaid website went live and the first wave of victims came for help or to offer support. The full interview can be seen here!

The wonderful Becky Holmes has her book published next month. 'Keanu Reeves is not in love with you,' is a fantastic way to laugh at the scammers whilst also learning about the dark truths surrounding Romance Fraud. Well worth a read or also available as an audio book! You can pre-order here!

3: December '23

Welcome!

December has been another big month for LoveSaid. We have continued to raise awareness to help 'Stop The Stigma' and open discussions around Romance Fraud. There have been lots of radio interviews around the use of AI and an ITV news report just after Christmas Day. You can see this on the link below.

READ MORE

After This Morning, we had an interview with The Times. Claire Cohen, published a well detailed and personal interview. You can find it on the link below.

READ HERE

Other useful platforms to help stay safe from other frauds and scams.

Scam Rangers, produced by the brilliant Ayelet Biger-Levin. A podcast about the human side of fraud and the people who are on a mission to protect us. We will hear from activists, researchers, prosecutors, human trafficking experts and other advocates, telling the story of scams and scam victims from their perspectives. Most importantly – we can learn what we can do about it. You can find her here!

Get Safe Online, is the UK's leading online safety advice platform for all frauds and scams. You can find them here. There is also a great tool to check websites and see if they are safe. You can find that here.

GASA is the Global Anti Scam Alliance. Their mission is to create a world where people worldwide are safe from the financial and emotional trauma caused by online scams. Their aim is to bring together governments, law enforcement, consumer protection organizations, financial authorities and providers, brand protection agencies, social media, Internet service providers and cybersecurity companies to share knowledge and define joint actions to protect consumers from getting scammed. You can find them here.

Take care and stay safe,
Anna and Cecilie